ABUJAH, United Arab Emirates, July 28, 2025/APO Group -- SGI Dubai 2025 returns to the Dubai World Trade Centre from September 23-24, inviting African investors and trade visitors to witness the latest breakthroughs in printing, labelling and digital signage. As the preeminent B2B showcase for the Middle East and Africa, this year's 28th edition is calibrated to fast-track market leadership and deliver measurable returns on investment. African visitors can register by clicking on this link - <https://ie-po-ope.co/3U9u4T>.

Africa's printing market is surging, with a regional valuation of approximately USD 2 billion in 2023 and a projected compound annual growth rate of 5.5 percent through 2030 according to 6WResearch (<http://apo-ope.co/4thvCui>). Simultaneously, the Middle East and Africa digital signage solution market was valued at USD 2.1 billion in 2024 and is forecast to reach USD 2.3 billion in 2025 at an 11.1 percent CAGR as per Statista Research (<http://apo-ope.co/4g29Bq>). These dynamics reflect an accelerating shift toward digital, colour and smart labelling solutions—an imperative for African businesses seeking differentiation and efficiency.

"Africa's print and signage sector stands at the threshold of a new era," said Abdulrahman Falekineiz, President of International Expo-Consults. "SGI Dubai 2025 is designed to accelerate innovation adoption and catalyse partnerships. Investors and buyers from Nairobi to Lagos and Cairo to Cape Town will discover the technologies and service models that will redefine productivity, sustainability, and profitability across their markets."

Last year, SGI Dubai welcomed over 200 exhibitors from more than 40 countries and tens of thousands of trade visitors representing every major growth market. SGI Dubai 2025 will elevate that experience with purpose-built zones spanning large-format and 3D printing, precision cutting and engraving, end-to-end labelling systems, advanced software platforms, sustainable substrates, and consumables. Live demonstrations, exclusive product launches and hands-on workshops will enable African decision-makers to assess equipment performance, negotiate bespoke financing and forge strategic alliances under one roof.

Registrants gain complimentary entry, access to curated networking lounges, business matchmaking and insights-driven panel sessions led by industry veterans.

SGI Dubai 2025's show profiles encompass the full spectrum of print and signage technology: large-format and wide-format printers, industrial 3D printers, digital display and LED signage, precision laser cutting and engraving, automated finishing systems, end-to-end labelling and branding, workflow software and colour management solutions, sustainable inks and substrates, and specialised materials for automotive wraps, textile printing and retail point-of-sale graphics.

Leading global technology providers will be on the show floor as they will showcase live demos of their latest hardware, consumables and software integrations—offering African buyers unprecedented access to innovations that drive faster turnaround, higher quality and lower total cost of ownership www.signmiddleeast.com.

"I extend a personal invitation to every African print and signage professional to join us at SGI Dubai 2025," added Falekineiz. "This is where you will discover the innovations that will revolutionize your operations, secure partnerships to scale your business across the continent and gain the competitive advantage you need in today's fast-moving markets. Come to Dubai this September and let SGI Dubai 2025 be the launchpad for your next chapter of growth and success."

DAY 1

SGI DUBAI 2025 OPENS AS THE GLOBAL PRINTING MACHINERY MARKET HEADS TO USD 20.5 BILLION BY 2031

Day 1 rallies buyers and manufacturers around concrete demand in large-format, digital signage, and textile printing; MEA investment outlook strengthens through 2030

SGI Dubai 2025 opened today at Dubai World Trade Centre with a clear signal to the market: buyers are investing again—backed by durable capex cycles in printing equipment and accelerating demand for networked signage. As the global printing machinery market advances toward USD 20.5 billion by 2031, industry leaders used Day 1 to convert research-led optimism into orders, partnerships, and technology roadmaps tailored to the Middle East & Africa. H.E. Butti Soeod Al Ghandi, Vice Chairman of Dubai World Trade Centre inaugurated this much-anticipated industry event.

"SGI Dubai has always been a decision-makers show," said Abdulrahman Falaknaz, President, International Expo-Consults (IEC). "This year, the conversations are sharply focused on where automation, greener chemistries, and data make money first—prepress, colour, predictive maintenance, and retail media analytics. You can feel the momentum on the floor. Our buyers are optimising entire workflows, not just machines. Suppliers who combine automation, sustainable materials and measurable outcomes will capture the next five years of growth—SGI is where those partnerships start."

Market outlook

Independent research indicates sustained growth across SGI's core buying segment. Digital signage is projected to reach USD 45.94 billion by 2030 as retailers, transit and hospitality standardise on digitized, data-driven networks according to Grand View Research. Digital textile printing is on a faster curve, set to almost double to USD 11.6 billion by 2030 as fashion, home and soft signage pivot to agile, low-waste production. On the other hand, large-format printers are forecast to touch USD 10.36 billion by 2030, propelled by short-run, customised applications across retail, events and décor. In the Middle East & Africa, digital signage revenue is projected to reach around USD 2.8 billion by 2030, while commercial displays are set to approach USD 3.6 billion by 2030, underpinned by new malls, airports, transit hubs and smart-city programmes—key demand engines for both displays and printed graphics.

What's new on the floor

SGI Dubai 2025 builds on the momentum of last year's edition—which highlighted advances in large-format, textile, LED, and digital signage—creating a strong platform for this year's surge in qualified buyers and investment intent. Across the halls, exhibitors are unveiling full product portfolios: high-output large-format systems, networked digital signage and fine-pitch LED; labelling and branding lines geared to short-run, variable jobs for targeted promotions and e-commerce; CNC, laser and metal cutting/engraving cells that integrate print-cut-finish for rapid turnarounds; and 3D-printing capabilities that accelerate jigs, moulds, and bespoke POS components. The SGI Knowledge Series will take place on Day 2 of the show—Tuesday, September 23, 2025—at Dubai World Trade Centre. Designed as SGI's executive learning forum, the programme brings together manufacturers, PSPs, fabricators, media owners and brand leaders for keynotes, panels, and case studies. This year's discussions spotlight near-term, real-world ROI from AI in prepress and colour management, predictive maintenance on the shop floor, programmatic retail media, and sustainable materials and workflows. Attendance is open to registered trade visitors, with sessions tailored to decision-makers looking to turn technology roadmaps into measurable business outcomes.

INDUSTRY LEADERS URGE ADAPTATION AS PRINTING & SIGNAGE ENTER AI ERA

The SGI Dubai 2025 Knowledge Series featured an engaging panel discussion with five industry leaders – Mr. Shaleh El-Shelhi, Marketing Director, Al Raboob; Mr. Philippe Husni, Managing Director, Helioid Oor; Mr. Kethiwarem Singaravel, Founder & CEO, KESS Group of Companies; Mr. Jash Boodani, Founder & GM, HAK Plus; and Ms. Charlotte Cogger, Client Relationship Manager, Pyrix. Adding a strong academic dimension to the session, a group of students from the American University of Dubai, accompanied by their professor, attended to gain first-hand insights into how the printing and signage industry is being reshaped. The panelists stressed that artificial intelligence (AI) should not be feared, but rather embraced as a catalyst for transformation. Whether in printing, gifting, textiles, logistics, or advertising materials, AI is already proving to be a powerful tool for enhancing creativity, efficiency, and competitiveness.

The discussion reinforced the idea that the industry must adapt to thrive in this new era. Panelists pointed out that AI-driven solutions are revolutionizing workflows, unlocking new design possibilities, streamlining operations, and even redefining customer engagement. For sectors like the gifting industry, where creativity is central, AI is enabling innovations that were once unimaginable. The session concluded with a powerful message for both professionals and the next generation of industry leaders present in the room: the printing and signage industry is thriving, but its future success will depend on how well it integrates and leverages AI. AI is not a choice, it is the way forward.

The original piece of art is the Girl with a Pearl Earring by Dutch painter Vermeer. We have taken the original painting and divided into thousands of squares each of them showing unique picture. Show visitors were impressed by the artist creativity and the print quality on the Mimaki flat bed. While most customers use the Mimaki UV printer for decoration and advertising purpose, this printer is a flat bed unit capable of printing on rigid material that is up to 50mm thick so also suited for all cartons, corrugated, honeycomb and other packing materials.

On a separate wall, visitors could see a typical wall paper printed on the most versatile Mimaki UCJV330 roll to roll printer as displayed on the above picture. This latest UV printer is capable of printing at 55 Sqn/hour and incorporates white and clear ink. Users can create up to nine layers enabling them to print 2.5D embossed prints. Another unique application is the Day Night application, where users can create two different images depending on the direction of the light. During the day one can see what is printed on the front and at night one can see the second image. With a single print 2 effects are achieved. Another possible application is the double sided printing on clear films, allowing for separate message on either side.

Heliozid Océ, the Mimaki authorized distributor, is a leading organization in the UAE with its core activities focused around development of large format printing solutions for the Graphic arts and textile markets. All printing solutions are supported by a professional team of technical consultants. Our strength lies in our focused efforts on providing mid to high-end large format printing solutions and their assorted media to the commercial and display graphics segments. Heliozid Océ expects to extend their success to become a leading supplier of textile printing solutions for both signage, home decor, and fashion environments.

xTool at SGI Dubai 2025: Pioneering Solutions for the Printing Industry

xTool showcases cutting-edge solutions addressing critical pain points in the printing industry. Our DTF Apparel Printer revolutionizes garment customization with one-click operation, full lifecycle auto-maintenance, and multi-fabric compatibility (cotton, leather, polyester), eliminating traditional DTF challenges like complex setup and inconsistent quality. Paired with our desktop laser engraver, we empower small businesses and creators with industrial-grade precision (e.g., 180W AI collimator, 720x1800 DPI resolution) and batch production flexibility (e.g., auto-material recognition, variable-object processing), bridging the gap between DTF and industrial-scale needs. We believe the future of printing lies in democratizing technology—reducing barriers for SMEs and individuals through automation, AI, and user-centric design. As MENA's signage and imaging market grows, xTool's innovations align with regional demand for high-margin customization and sustainable production (e.g., reduced waste via smart software).
